The Committee invites you to our next event

The presence of women Directors in businesses

Tuesday, 8 February; 18.00h

At St James Club, 43 ave Bugeaud, 75116 Paris (metro Porte Dauphine)

Speaker: Dominique Damon, member of IFA

(Fee for non CIMA members: 25€)

In France, as in the United Kingdom, the imposition of quotas in the governance of business progresses.

Studies have shown that, where women have served on the Executive committees of companies, their positive influence has improved the financial performance. Their level of education, and managerial style, promotes the usefulness of women in the directive structure of businesses.

In spite of this, the need to impose quotas appears more frequently.

The recommendations and training specifically to help women become directors are developing.

Given these new horizons, Dominique speculates on the many initiatives, drawing on her personal experience as manager and director in large international groups.

The presentation will cover;

- Female directors in Europe
- The presence of women and performance
- Managerial style
- Recommendations and the reality...

About the Speaker

- Dominique has an extensive worldwide experience as chairwoman and independent board member of several global companies. She is experienced in various industry and service sectors, in strategic and financial assessment, operational recovery and development, mergers and acquisition support, corporate governance and management coaching.

- Foreign Trade Advisor to the French Minister of Commerce, previously Expert for the Government's Prospective Plan, Dominique is Officier de la Légion d'Honneur.

- Since 2004 she has been President of her company, Evalind International, whilst also holding Board positions at the Daher Group, Bongrain S.A., and SNPE.

The presentation will be in French and English, to suit the audience, and will be followed by a cocktail.
